

the storm

He came walking towards her just as the rain drops started falling. She could feel the excitement start to build just at the sight of him. They had been waiting for the next storm for days. The beach was deserted just as they knew it would be. The rain kept falling harder and they could hear thunder in the distance.

He wrapped his arms around her and she ran her hands across his chest. They started kissing, long and deep. She could feel the heat building in her stomach and spreading. Her nipples grew hard as they rubbed across his chest. The rain was drenching them as they caressed and moved their kisses lower.

Just as she felt his lips and tongue on her neck she heard a loud explosion of thunder all around her. The heat of his sucking mouth and the excitement of the storm were driving her crazy. Her hands ran down his body to his hard cock. She undid his belt and jeans. She started sliding them down over his hips as she went to her knees.

The rain was pouring over them with thunder and lightning all around them made everything hotter. Her heart was pounding just as hard as the waves were crashing on the shore. She pulled his cock out of his jeans and wrapped her lips around the head. She felt it jump in her mouth as she started sucking it into her mouth. She could feel it growing harder and longer as she licked and sucked. It made her gag a little when it touched the back of her throat but she swallowed the head anyway.

The storm intensified as he started fucking her mouth. Thunder is crashing, lightning flashing and her hot blood rushing along her veins. Her pussy is soaked from the rain and her own juices as she sucks him deeper and deeper. He squeezes her breast with his big hands and starts pinching her nipples.

He reaches down and pulls her off his cock as he pulls her to her feet. He strips her shirt off her and takes her nipples into his mouth one at a time. Sucking and biting, holding her close as he keeps trying to draw her whole breast into his mouth. His hands start sliding her pants down her hips, over her sweet, curvy ass. He grabs the cheeks of her ass pulling her tight against him. He grinds his cock against her stomach. Her pussy floods and her juices mix with the rain as it flows down her thighs.

The storm is raging as he lowers her down to the hard packed sand. He raises her knees and parts the wet lips of her pussy as he drops to his knees between her legs. The rain pounds her body as he lowers his head to her pussy. His mouth covers her as his tongue slides through the lips of her hot pussy. He pulls her clit into his mouth, sucking and nibbling.

He can't stand it any longer; he has to be inside her. He brings his cock to the entrance of her pussy and plunges it inside. The heat and tightness almost makes him come at once but he controls it. He starts sliding in and out working up a steady rhythm as he brings them both to heights of ecstasy. The storm is at its strongest point too. As they fuck harder and harder the storm rages around them, pounding their bodies with rain.

She loses it and starts to cum so hard her pussy is throbbing. He feels her hot cum all over his cock and explodes inside her too. So much cum it overflows her pussy and runs down between the cheeks of her ass. He collapses in her arms and rests lightly over her body. The storm dies as they slowly kiss and start getting up to leave. They walk off the beach arm in arm already planning the next storm.
